

Sol-gel coatings with the high erbium concentration for optoelectronics and photovoltaics

The erbium oxide coatings were formed by the sol-gel method on the monocrystalline silicon wafers. The thickness of the obtained coatings was about 100-150 nm. Strong Er luminescence with a maximum at 1.53 μm is observed from the oxide films.

Primary authors: KHOROSHKO, Liudmila (Belarusian State University of Informatics and Radioelectronics (BSUIR)); Ms KORNILOVA, Yuliana (Belarusian States University of Informatics and Radioelectronics (BSUIR)); Prof. GAPONENKO, Nikolai (Belarusian States University of Informatics and Radioelectronics (BSUIR))

Presenter: KHOROSHKO, Liudmila (Belarusian State University of Informatics and Radioelectronics (BSUIR))

Track Classification: Laser Physics and Optoelectronics